

The WOMEN have Always Helped—

God Bless Them!

We reverence the spirit of America's womanhood. The Bonds they bought were precious, sacred things to them. They felt that every Bond was silent, material proof that they could fight too.

And how they have kept the faith! How they have given their boys, their husbands, their brothers!

How they have sold Bonds and how they have bought them!

And now that the Victory Liberty Loan has come, they will work and save once more.

And let every last man stand shoulder to shoulder with these women and see that the Victory debt is paid.
